Progress reported

Customs Affairs ensures transparency and accessibility by publishing all concluded customs agreements in a simplified and automated form on its official website. This practice allows merchants, customers, and the general public to easily access and review the details of these agreements. By making these agreements readily available, Customs Affairs promotes openness and provides stakeholders with valuable information regarding customs procedures, regulations, and obligations. This proactive approach not only fosters trust and confidence among merchants and customers but also facilitates informed decision-making and compliance with customs requirements. The publication of these agreements on the Customs Affairs website highlights the department's commitment to transparency and effective communication and consultation with its stakeholders.

Progress reported

Bahrain Customs Affairs has demonstrated its commitment to facilitating trade by implementing advanced rulings. The advance ruling application has been made easily accessible to the public through various channels.
Firstly, the advance ruling application its displayed on the Customs Affairs website, allowing interested parties to initiate the application process with ease. Additionally, the department has leveraged the power of social media platforms to disseminate information about advanced rulings, ensuring wider reach and engagement.
Furthermore, the new Customs clearance system, known as OFOQ2, has brought about further enhancements. This system features a dedicated window specifically designed for advanced rulings, providing a streamlined and efficient process for customs clearance. By incorporating advanced rulings within this new system, Bahrain Customs has taken significant strides towards ensuring transparency in customs procedures.
